

4. Is it always viable to impose requirements on developers for contributions that will add to the cost of development (e.g., affordable housing, provision of open space) on top of other site costs associated with the redevelopment of brownfield land? Should the Council prioritise wher

